

THE ARTISAN'S OUTING

SPEND A DAY IN RED BANK

Red Bank is not only a mecca for art consumers—we have much to offer those who make art, too. Whether you are an experienced maker, in the exploration stage, or an enthusiastic hobbyist, we have some unique places for creative people to get the raw materials, knowledge and/or experience needed to take the next step. If you are looking for outlets for your creative work, Check out The Art Trek. Between venues, stop to enjoy lunch or dinner in one of our amazing restaurants—many display the work of local artists on their walls.

Chelsea Yarns: Everything knitters and crocheters could possibly want—yarns and fibers from all over the world, books, patterns, instructions and tools. Don't miss their "Open Knit" sessions on Thursday nights. (25 Mechanic St.)

Pinot's Palette: Always wanted to try your hand at painting but didn't have the nerve to start? It's easy to take the plunge at Pinot's Palette. Discover a new way to unwind with your friends. Reconnect over your favorite beverages while a local Artist guides you through painting your own masterpiece. (12 Broad St.)

Paint-a-Tee: At Paint a Tee you can put your artwork, sayings or photographs onto tees, hoodies, notebooks, cutting boards, aprons, mousepads, onesies, bibs, burp cloths, tote bags, coasters, frames, pillowcases, puzzles & more! Reserve ahead for birthday or BYOB parties, or walk in to design your own custom items. (18 Monmouth St.)

Hobbymasters: With more than 7,000 square feet on two floors, Hobbymasters has something for everyone to enjoy! Whether your passion is model railroads, model building, radio control models, dollhouses, or science, you will find the supplies, kits, and information you need here. It's worth the trip just to see the displays. (62 White St.)

A Time to Kiln: Try your hand at a variety of arts activities: paint pottery, make mosaics, paint a canvas, stuff a critter and fuse glass. You can walk in or pre-book one of their great party packages, including paint 'n sip. A Time to Kiln offers a great introduction to a variety of popular contemporary crafts.

The Art Alliance: This artist-run cooperative offers classes and workshops in a variety of art techniques and media for beginners, intermediate and advanced visual artists. Stop by the gallery to get info about instructors and classes.
